

Party Camera

Nikon has just released their new S series of COOLPIX compact cameras and the star of their line-up has to be the S1000pj. The S1000pj is also the first of its kind to boast a built-in projector, allowing you to instantly and easily share the photos you've taken with friends. Be the star of the party with this one-of-a-kind compact camera.

Price: $799

<http://www.nikon.com.sg>

Sound All Around

The Veho 360 Portable Capsule Speaker is great for parties where you want to share music on your MP3 player. It connects to MP3 players via a 3.5mm stereo jack and is powered by a built-in rechargeable battery so you don't have to go hunting for a power source. Be the DJ of the party with this funky little speaker!

<http://www.veho-uk.com>

Watch YouTube on the HDTV

LG's latest Blu-ray player, the LG BD390 brings the online world to your living room. With integrated networking features, this player can stream videos from the web and even allows users to connect online to play games and listen to music. Let's not forget its other features such as BD Live 2.0 support, DLNA certification and upscaling of DVDs to near HD quality; truly a versatile home entertainment machine. Price: $5799

<http://www.lge.com>

