1 VEHO 360, $79,
from Tangs Orchard

BLUETOOTH RANGE 15 metres.

WHAT I LIKED It was the smallest and most lightweight of the lot; I could take it everywhere. It had the longest bluetooth range - music only became slightly distorted about 12 metres away from the source; and cut off at 15 metres. Charging was done via USB; one charge gave me four hours of playtime.

WHAT COULD BE BETTER Pairing up was a little tricky initially - I had to delete the previous pairing on my phone and search for the Veho speaker. There were no volume controls on the speakers; I had to adjust it from my phone. At a very high volume, the music also got a little crackly, and the song paused every time I received an SMS.

VERDICT Short playtime, but scores on portability and range though sound quality was average. 7

Goodbye Wires,

Hello Bluetooth!

These wireless speakers may be small, but they still pack a powerful punch when it comes to listening to your music. VANESSA TAI tests four.
